WASHINGTON LETTER

(By Clyde H. Tavenner, Congressman-elect, Special Washington correspondent of this newspaper.)

Washington, Jan. 22.—"We want to get a large amount of revenue on luxuries, so that we can put a less tax on the necessities of life."

This is to be the basis of the tariff revision in the Sixty-third Congress, according to Chairman Underwood of the Democratic Ways and Means Committee. The above expression is Mr. Underwood's. He made it directly to one of the big silk manufacturers who was testifying before his committee.

The indications are that a feature of the democratic policy is likely to be free dressed and rough lumber, shingles, laths and fence posts. The members of the Ways and Means Committee, while asking questions of witnesses, appeared to be in favor of that policy.

Free meats, it is rumored, may also be a part of the tentative tariff plan the committee will frame to submit to the extra session.

The very air in the corridors outside of the committee room seems to breathe a feeling that the democratic leaders intend to see to it that the promises made to the people before election are to be religiously carried out after election.

Why Fear Downward Revision? High protectionists declare even the slightest tariff revision would hurt our business and lessen our exports.

"The slightest revision downward would throw men out of work," is the cry of the multimillionaire tariff trust heads who have been getting an ever-increasing amount of protection all these years while at the same time importing foreigners to take the places of American workers and paying their workers little more than a pittance.

Is there anything in the argument of the rich high protectionists? If they are right in their contention that some tariff revision would lessen our exports, one would naturally think that Great Britain, with free trade would have perished long ago.

But Great Britain is not perishing. For the month of November the total amount of trade in Great Britain was $620,000,000. The increase in exports as compared with the "boom" figures of November, 1911, was $11,860,000! There is now full employment for labor in that "benighted" free trade kingdom. Even the protectionists are forced to admit "a cycle of splendid trade and national well-being," and that there is no protectionist country that shows a parallel prosperity.

There is food for reflection in these figures. They show there is nothing to the contention that revision downward of the tariff is likely to ruin business. Honest business men of the country realize this and have no apprehension because of democratic ascendancy.
